

Sun Power Finder

Find the true power of your Sun and the Solar Return Reading

By Brett Simpson

<http://www.thedreamtime.com>

Copyright 2012, Brett A. Simpson – All Rights Reserved

Introduction

In this book I will give you everything you need to help you get more from the Sun in your astrology chart, and empower you to take advantage of your Solar Return Astrology Reading as well as to help you to locate additional Sun aspects in any solar return chart. Having great charts as those indicated here will help you to quickly see how the position of planets, houses and signs and their aspects (angles) affect you astrologically in everyday life. Second only to a natal (birth reading), having the forecast charts for progressions, transits, solar arcs and returns is the most important way for you to empower yourself by making use of your own invaluable astrological data. If you take the time to learn a little bit about these interpretations and their meanings, as well as the details that they present to you, you will be rewarded many times over. Having a good forecast report (such as your solar return once each year) will often give you an important edge in helping you get a glimpse of what may be ahead for you in the coming months, and years of your life, one year at a time.

What can you come to understand from this book? You will get an excellent outlook on the Sun in your astrological chart and how it affects you every day. Because of this, you will soon understand that you can empower yourself to levels you never imagined before. You may notice a sense of confidence and ‘knowing’ that can only come by having your solar return chart data, and positions in your chart. You may use this new power to take advantage of your strengths, and to mitigate your weaknesses and the effects that they may have on you. All of this comes from a little help from the stars and their position on the day that you were born, and especially from the position of your Sun, which will be returned to the exact position in the sky that it was in on the exact moment of your birth. You may be able to achieve your goals in every area of your life: spirituality, financially, in your career, and even romantically by working with the basics of astrology and your Solar Return reading combined with the additional interpretations and charts in this book you can make great progress quicker and with greater ease than you may have ever felt before, in all areas of your life.

When you consider a combined solar return forecast with a natal astrology reading (such as The Sky Within, or Heaven Knows What) and one of our professional numerology readings, you will soon come to understand that specific aspects of your soul are revealed that you never knew were there. Let's look closer at your solar return forecast chart and what it means.

Your Solar Return Chart Compared to Progressions and Transits

You may wonder what a solar return chart is and why it is so valuable. It was discovered thousands of years ago that if you returned the Sun (which also represents your ego, power, and personal identity) to its' place in the sky that it was in at the exact time of birth that it could be used to make incredible forecast and predictions based on the movement of your Sun from this position a degree (or so) every day until it returns back to where it was when you were born again on your birthday next year.

This is a similar concept to both transits and progressions. With transits you are looking at the position of a planet as it moves through your chart in the current time frame. With progressions you look at the movement of a planet based on it moving one day for each year in your life. So, even though both of these (transits, and progressions) deal with planetary movement through your natal chart, neither of these deal with returning a planet to the position it was in (for the current time frame) to its exact position that it was in at the time of your birth and focusing on the changes that take place from that position forward. It is this unique concept that makes the return so unique in your chart. Solar returns are very unique in that they can be used for one year forecasts, and lunar returns can be used for monthly (28 day) forecasts.

Precession, Sidereal Time and House Systems

When you compare the planetary positions in this solar return chart, with the planetary positions in your natal/birth chart all kinds of things start popping out. At least they do as long as precession was considered when your solar return chart was calculated. We always turn on precession and use it when we calculate solar return charts. Mostly because I've found it more reliable and accurate when precession is turned on (using sidereal time) and Placidus or Koch is used as the house system. It's not easy to explain sidereal time and precession and why it's important, but I've found it very important as it changes the information in your chart significantly. The great psychic Edgar Cayce confirmed this to be true by indicating (in one of his readings) that a sidereal time solar return astrology forecast reading was excellent for anyone to have for a yearly forecast reading (and that it should be done once each year). When it comes to a yearly forecast, I also like to include a good secondary progression reading (such as: Life Progressions Yearly Astrology Forecast) especially to take a look at the Moon as it progresses, as well as a transit reading (such as: TimeLine Transit Forecast Astrology) and a Forecast Plus Numerology reading to corroborate the year ahead with numerology.

Combine all of these and you will be sure to have a very good idea of what may lie ahead for the current year (starting from the birthday and moving forward). Most astrologers disagree on how far before the birthday to have the reading prepared, but it is often noted that many of the things noted and the new aspects coming into the cart can make themselves known up to three months (90 days) in advance. For this reason, I also offer a two year solar return reading which gives you two complete solar return readings: one for the current year from your birthday, and on into the next year and through to your birthday again the following year. This way you can be sure to have some forecast information leading up to your birthday for at least 30 days or so, depending on when you order your reading. If you apply and interpret your reading along with what you find in this book you will be light years ahead of anyone when it comes to reaching your goals and achieving your life purpose. Your goals and wishes just may fall into place easier; at least you will feel that way. I've seen it happen many times.

To start we need to get an idea of how each planet affects your solar return chart and then we will look at the signs and how those returned planets (as they appear in your solar return reading) affect you, and what they mean in each sign. Are you ready to start learning?

The Planets In Your Solar Return

The planets in your solar return chart will be indicated at the beginning of your reading. Look at the Solar Return Chart heading on page 2 (the chart on the right). This will tell you every planet and its location in your solar return. Every solar return astrology chart should include all of the planets (Sun, Moon, Mercury, Mars, Venus, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto as well as the Midheaven and Ascendant). It's nice if you also have a natal chart next to the solar return chart (which you will immediately to the left of the solar return chart. The interpretation of the new positions of these planets in your solar return chart is invaluable. This is especially true with the Solar Return Reading as it interprets the aspects (angles) and planetary positions relative to your natal/birth planetary positions.

These planetary meanings are the primary indicators for your reading, so I will include the chart below to indicate each planet and it's meaning specifically in your solar return. Lookup the meaning of each planet in the chart below and use that to give you a 'summary glance' at their meanings in your chart (both symbolic and real) for each planet in your solar return (the numbers in parentheses are the numerology equivalent for each planet):

Planet	Astrological Meaning	Solar Return Meaning
Sun (1,8)	The Sun is at the center of our Solar system and all of the other planets revolve around it. Because the light and the heat which is generated by the Sun is seen as the giver of life the Sun any natal/birth chart symbolizes the essential self, the heart and the center of the physical body.	The central activity and focus of your energy for this year. Your ability to lead, creativity and originality are also indicated by the Sun in your solar return. Your personal authority, fame and honor are other words that could be used.
Moon (2~0)	The Moon is the only natural satellite of the Earth and is the closest planetary (it's not really a planet, but its influences are strongly felt) object to us. The Moon is without water and the only light it receives is reflected from the Sun. The light which repeats itself in phases every 28 days is caused by the Moons orbit around Earth. Because it is always near us, it represents are 'shadow self', our changeable moods and feelings.	Change, new experiences as well as your feelings of restlessness (and movement) for the year. The public (in general) as it sees you, as well as any publicity (both good and bad) that may occur are represented by the Moon. Any domestic/family interests.
Mercury (3,12)	Mercury is the smallest planet in our Solar system and also the closest one to the Sun. Because it is so close to the Sun itself, the Sun and Mercury can never be more than 28 degrees apart in angular separation (aspects). Because it is so close to the Sun, the properties of this planet is closely related to those of the Sun - health, well, being and life-force.	Your communication with others (for the year) as well as intelligence and your primary interests that you are focused on. Your ability to travel and desire for change and movement. Work and employment as it is related to travel.
Venus (6,2~0!11, 11/2~0)	Venus is the second planet from the Sun and is never more than 48 degrees from the Sun. Venus has the ability to rise above the horizon	Love and romantic commitment for the year. Peace and harmony and your desire to keep things for viewing. As a beautiful object in the night sky, Venus has become known as the Goddess of Love and Beauty.	comfortable (especially around the house). Your sense of attraction, beauty, and how you feel about your own looks.

Mars (5)	Mars is the first planet in the Solar system to orbit the Sun outside of The Earth. Its orange/red glow follows traditional color associations of courage, danger and daring. The symbol for Mars represents the male and Mars is known mostly as the planet that is the bringer of war and conflict.	Sexual action and energy for the year. Any type of conflicts that may occur. The risks and challenges of life as well as violence and aggression. War, guns, aggressiveness and physical wounds. Surgery and it's outcome are indicated by Mars.
Jupiter (9)	Jupiter is the largest planet in our Solar system and it also takes the longest to travel around the Sun in its orbit: taking 12 years to completely orbit the Sun. Because of this astrologers have maintained that Jupiter signifies expansion and growth.	Expansion and luck (as well as education) and what you truly 'value' during the year are indicated by Jupiter. Long distance travel of all kinds. Legal matters, religion as well as your philosophical outlook. Opportunity, growth, abundance and how you find prosperity this year are also symbolized by Jupiter in your chart.
Saturn (8,1)	Saturn was once thought to be the farthest planet in our Solar System since it was the last one that could be seen with the naked eye. Because of this its properties were often those of a boundary maker (or authority).	Your personal responsibilities and self-discipline as well as ambition for the year are noted by the position of Saturn. Authority, restrictions and boundaries are all indicated by Saturn. Organization at a high level, and anything related to financial abundance.
Uranus (11,7)	Uranus has a reputation for unpredictability and eccentricity. Uranus is known for ruling the ideal sentiments and imagination. It is a magical planet of alchemical, creative and transmutational properties. The base of creativity can be found here.	Freedom, originality, independence and rebellion throughout the year are symbolized by the position of Uranus. Sudden changes and their effect on you through the year. Surprises and things that shock you with their quickness. Twists of fate, rebellion and revolution.
Neptune (7,11/2~0, 6,2~0!11)	Neptune is planet of weirdness! This is a planet of subtle and powerful properties. It was originally discovered as a star, and later found to be a planet. Its ethereal forces mean	Your imagination, dreams and intuitive vision (for the year) are symbolized by the position of Neptune. Illusion and sacrifice for that it only influences us on higher vibrational levels.	others. Conspiracies of all kinds. Assassinations and resignation are also indicated by Neptune in the solar return chart.

Pluto (10)	Pluto is second to eccentric and ethereal behavior only to Neptune. This planet was unknown until 1930 and has recently been reclassified by astronomers as a dwarf planet. Pluto has subtle powers over masses of people that influence other – especially in areas of destruction and war.	Regeneration, power and transformation, for the year, are the keywords for the planet Pluto. Stress especially as it is related to forceful actions of others. Destruction, power and control over others. Harassment and intimidation. Turns of fate in your life. The way that you view life: in the past and your current life may be affected.
Ascendant	The Ascendant represents: ‘the mask you are wearing’, particularly by the Ascendant sign that is rising in your Solar Return chart. You must also look at the natal ascendant and try to combine the two (natal ascendant and solar return Ascendant) to create an environment where you are still true to yourself, but that you are achieving what the stars are indicating for the year of your return.	Demeanor and personality and experiences attracted to you throughout this year are indicated by the Ascendant. See the section below on The Ascendant in your Solar Return Chart for more information.
Midheaven	The Midheaven is located at the top of the chart. It is at the very top of the chart and because of this it represents the most public point in our chart. It often relates to our true life purpose achievement or primary goal in life and often indicates your reputation to others in society and your potential to achieve for the year ahead. Similar to the Ascendant: you must also look at the natal Midheaven and try to combine the two (natal Midheaven and solar return Midheaven) to create an environment where you are true to yourself and still reaching toward your potential that the stars are indicating for this year.	Your outer personality (and your career), as seen by others, is symbolized by the Midheaven in your chart. Think of it as how others see you publicly, as your role in society. The Midheaven is the public face that you wear, and that others see in you. It often represents your professional or career status for the year, and the potential goals or achievements that may come to the forefront during the year.

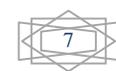

Table 1

The Ascendant In Your Solar Return Chart

The ascending sign (also called the rising sign) hold the characteristics for you and the overall feeling for the year. Look at the sign that is ascending. If it is a cardinal sign (Libra, Aries, Cancer or Capricorn) expect initiative action, change and activity throughout the year. If it is fixed sign (Taurus, Scorpio, Leo or Aquarius) then expect a good year for building a foundation, and planning for solid and stable conditions with which you can move forward after the year is over. If it is a mutable sign (Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius, or Pisces) then change, adaptability and versatility will be needed this year to deal with the fluctuations and change that may arise during the year.

Use the Power Chart below to help you find out exactly which area of your life will be highlighted throughout this year based on the rising sign of your solar return. Combine this with the Midheaven indications and the other planets and you will have a perfect method for finding out what your solar return indicates for you throughout the year ahead. Note that this will change every year, so it's good to check-in every year and have another Solar Return reading prepared to get a look at the following year one step at a time. It's an empowering method for looking ahead to the inspiration and challenges that lie there, all starting from your birthday (or about 3 months prior and to about 1 month after your birthday). The numbers in parentheses are the numerology equivalent for each sign:

Ascendant	Meaning
Leo (1, 8)	Leo is all about your leading others, and your potential to lead and be the center of attention this year will be at the forefront.
Cancer (2~0)	Your home and family life will be the focus of this year. You are likely to notice change and have strong emotional feelings.
Gemini (3)	Your mind will be stimulated this year as well as your communication abilities. Expect a lot of small tasks that keep you busy and also speaking, writing, or artistic opportunities (related to your self-expression) to come up.
Taurus (4)	Financial matters and your personal domestic life need to be stabilized and secured this year. Your dependability and service to others come to the front for you now. Stability and persistence to see your goals completed come up throughout the year.
Aries (5)	All types of new things come up this year. Look for a new ventures (business or personal) as well as a lot of action, passion and achievement related to your self-interests.
Pisces (11/2~0,6)	Your artistic talents, intuition, beauty and mysticism will come up often this year. You may have visionary achievements, and notice that adaptability and sympathy are very important for you this year.
Aquarius (7)	Your friendships and your ability to work with groups come to the front during this year. You may notice a drive to search for more meaning in your life, which cause you to re-think your hopes, dreams and wishes at this time.
Capricorn (8,1)	This year is all about achievement and material things. Your public reputation, leadership and organization come up at this time as well.
Sagittarius (9)	Optimism and long-term goal searching are the highlights of this year. Education and plans for exploration also arise at this time. You may find that endings come at just the right time this year.

Scorpio (10)	Change and transformation are upon you now. This year is full of intense energy: sexual drive, personal intuition and strong ambition. Be wary of too much secrecy during the year.
Libra (6,2~0!11)	Partnerships and mysticism are key points for the year. Your options in relationships must be weighed carefully with a deep sense of spirituality. Cooperation and challenges working with others may play a part.
Virgo (12)	This year is one of analytical thinking regarding details, practicality and your own health. You may notice communication plays an important part. Health and work issues come up often.
Table 2

Remember to keep in mind that you must match your natal rising sign (in the chart on the left) with your solar return rising sign (in the chart on the right) to try to achieve your highest potential throughout the year. This is often not an easy task. Your solar return rising sign will take precedence and shows you the coloring for the year, but it is all within the overall tone of your natal rising sign (which indicates the feelings you have throughout your life).

Astrological Houses and Their Solar Return Meanings

Each astrological house in a solar return chart has a specific meaning. If you notice many planets in a house then it will become activated with principle meanings. Use the chart below to locate the house in which the activation is taking place (as it appears in your Solar Return reading). Look at your Solar Return chart for groups of planets appearing in one house. If there are more than one then consider that house activated and look up the meaning below:

Solar Return House	Meaning
1st House Ruling: Sun (1,8)	Your own self-worth and individual energy and initiative are called to attention. Courage and abandonment are symbolic here. Attraction, vitality and strong efforts to achieve.
2nd House Ruling: Earth (4)	Financial assets and your own personal possessions (resources) come to the forefront. Income and personal wealth may fluctuate.
3rd House Ruling: Mercury (3)	Communication and transporting things (short distances) arise. Daily issues revolve around your neighbors and cars (or your primary means of travel).
4th House Ruling: Moon (0~2)	Your basic security as well as home and family and how you define it are important now. Where you live (your roots passed down from your parents and ancestors) are in focus. Your solitude may become important, or there may be issues revolving around your parents.
5th House Ruling: Mars (5)	Creativity, pleasure, and children (and/or romance) are big issues that come up. Sports, gambling (and gaming) of all types are active now.
6th House Ruling: Mercury (12)	Work, career and your job are primary focuses now. Your own personal health (diets, exercise and doctor/dentist visits) are indicated.

7th House Ruling: Venus, Neptune (6,2~0!11)	Very strong relationships, love affairs and even important long-term partnerships (marriage) may be activated. Legal and law issues may arise, or you may require professional advice or expert help.
8th House Ruling: Pluto (10)	Financial and money issues are prominent now, especially if they are related to joint finances (holding money, or property with someone else). Taxes, loans and other types of financial issues come up.
9th House Ruling: Jupiter (9)	Travel of the long-distance type is activated here. Education, teaching, values, truth and morality are also focused on (your personal beliefs or religion may be challenged).
10th House Ruling: Saturn (8,1)	Your personal ambitions, career goals, and life purpose desires are activated now. Your own reputation may come to the forefront. A person of authority, or your issues with your parents may arise.
11th House Ruling: Uranus (11,7)	All types of friendships, groups, clubs and your social life are keyed in on now. Separations and/or misunderstanding with those in your immediate social circle come up.
12th House Ruling: Neptune, Venus (7,11/2~0,6)	Seclusion and spiritual isolation are activated now. Your dreams, fantasies and mystical nature are on the rise. Also any type of institution, or even a hospital visit/recovery may come up.

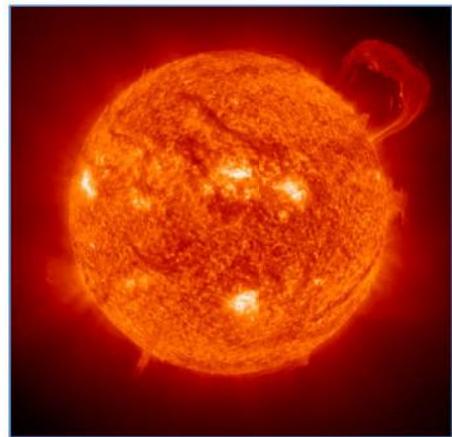

Table 3

The House of the Sun in your Solar Return

After a general overview of the year your solar return reading starts off with the house position of the sun in your solar return. This is an excellent way to get an idea of how to get a general overview for the entire year.

Sun House Meaning Chart:

Remember that the primary meaning for the Sun (in your solar return) is: the central activity and focus of your energy for this year. Look up the house in the chart below to get a better idea of what the house position for your sun means in your solar return chart.

Sun House	Meaning
1st (1)	You are easy to notice and you have a heavy influence on those around you this year. You are known for how you can transform your surroundings.
2nd (4)	You place high value on making and earning money and the priorities that it brings for the year. Financial stability and security are key for you.
3rd (3)	You have a very intelligent mind and you are always curious throughout the year. You are known for your intellectual abilities.
4th (2)	You place family above all other responsibilities this year. You have a strong desire to provide security for your loved ones.
5th (5)	Creativity and adventure are most important to you. You have a childlike view on life this year.
6th (12)	You are known for your commitment to work and you may be a workaholic during the year. You are very discriminating, and possibly a perfectionist.

7 th (6)	You try hardest to get along with others this year. Relationships and how others think of you are your primary focus.
8 th (10)	You are known for piercing through to find meaning where others cannot throughout the year. You are intense and have a strong sexual drive.
9 th (9)	You love traveling and trying new things this year. You have strong beliefs and values and you love foreign culture.
10 th (8)	You love authority and desire to be a leader during the year. You think of yourself as the job that you fill, and love to pursue your career.
11 th (11,7)	You really like being with your friends and you place them above others in your life in this year. Relating and partnerships with others are important.
12 th (7,11)	Sensitivity and compassion are more important to you during the year. You may be idealistic and always sympathetic to others.

Table 4-Sun Meanings

The House of the Moon in your Solar Return

After your charts are presented in your solar return reading the Sun position is indicated, then the Progressed Moon position is also indicated in your solar return chart (and reading). You can get a overview for the feelings you will experience this year, by looking at the house position of your progressed Moon in your Solar Return reading.

Moon House Meaning Chart:

Remember that the primary meaning for the Moon (in your solar return chart) is: change, new experiences as well as your feelings of restlessness (and movement) for the year. Look up the house in the chart below to get a better idea of what the house position for the moon means in your solar return chart.

Moon House	Moon House Meaning
1 st (1)	You are very loved and you prefer to be loved for your generous spirit this year. You may have a personal magnetism about you that is irresistible.
2 nd (4)	You like to provide emotional comfort and security to those in your life during the year. You also see this for yourself and you prefer the finer things.
3 rd (3)	Your feelings and emotions are filtered through your mind before you say anything through the year. You may need mental stimulation to be satisfied.
4 th (2)	You prefer to care for and nurture those you love during the year. Your sense of family keeps you going and is how you prefer to spend your time.
5 th (5)	You are emotionally self sufficient and you prefer to encourage others to be the same way this year. Your emotional responses to others are often quick.
6 th (12)	You like to analyze your emotions and this may bother others close to you throughout the year. You tend to combine practicality with your emotions.
7 th (6)	You always like to have harmony and balance in your life, especially emotionally this year. You do not like conflict and you are always considerate of others.
8 th (10)	You have an intense emotional life this year. Your feelings and emotions run deep and this may lead you to make strong commitments to others.
9 th (9)	You enjoy being playful and free this year. You always try to keep things light-hearted, and you always like travel, learning things, and excitement.
10 th (8)	You have a strong sense of duty to others in your life this year. You prefer to do things for others, or buy them things rather than to let your emotions out.
11 th (11,7)	Your emotions are tied into your thinking and this keeps you detached sometimes throughout the year. You often prefer to relate to those close to you with your mind.

12th
(7,11)

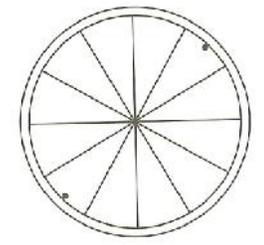

You are known for being compassionate, caring, and sensitive to the feelings of others this year. You are always aware of what others need.

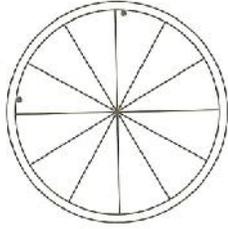

Table 5-Moon Meanings

Angles

Astrological angles are also very important when it comes to your solar return progressions. The angles that the transiting planet is at (the alignment with the object that is being transited) will identify how this transit/progression will express itself. Each angle is seen as either a good (benefic) or bad (malefic) with subtle differences in each that you can find in the chart below.

Look up the angle that your progressions, or object that is transiting (or progressing) in the chart below to help you determine how this particular angle will affect you. This table is in order of strength to how you much the energy will be felt. Also take note if the angle is positive, or negative:

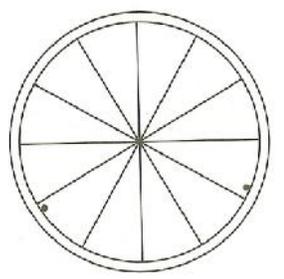

Angle	Meaning
Conjunction  This happens when the two transiting objects are in the same space, within 15 degrees or so either way, they are considered conjunct	The conjunction creates a situation where the energy is focused or concentrated on these two objects, the interactions between them will be more intense and may create nervousness in you. The conjunction may be a positive or negative vibration. If the planets fall in ruling signs, or in the same sign then the transit is heightened. If they fall in adjacent signs (next to each other), then the transit is weakened. This is the most powerful of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a very strong effect on you.
Opposition  An opposition is when two or more objects oppose one another in the chart (they are opposite of each other) within 10-15 degrees.	Oppositions in general will bring things out into the open regarding these two objects. This angle may create conflict or tension, or it may show intense attraction depending on the objects that are involved. The opposition is negative in its effect. This is a very powerful transiting aspect and may indicate emotional problems when working with others. This is a strong aspect of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a strong effect on you.
Square	You must find the facts that will help you understand. You may be overly curious, or over-reach boundaries with your desire to know more. The square is negative in effect. It symbolizes a strong tension, or difficulty between two objects. A positive effect can be enforced if the two objects can be harmonized.

The square occurs when two or more objects are 90 degrees apart, within 7 degrees. As the aspect moves closer to true 90 degrees it becomes stronger.

This is a strong aspect of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a strong effect on you.

Trine

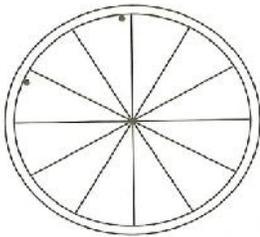

The trine happens when two or more objects are 120 degrees apart, within 7 degrees. As the aspect moves closer to true 120 degrees it becomes stronger.

You are helped along by an unseen hand. You may turn within and become introspective and intuitive which provides you with a comfort and ease in handling things. Your feelings affect you deeply. You may become too introspective.

The trine is positive in effect. It symbolizes the ability for the two objects to work well together.

This is a strong aspect of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a strong effect on you.

Sextile

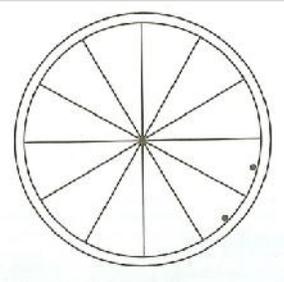

The sextile happens when two or more objects are 60 degrees apart, within 3 degrees. As the aspect moves closer to true 60 degrees it becomes stronger.

You communicate openly, especially if it involves speaking, writing, or public performance. You may choose art as your medium, or you may desire to be spontaneous and overly indulgent.

The sextile is positive in effect. Similar to a trine aspect, the sextile indicates a helpful and harmonizing effect between the two objects. Its effect is slightly less strong than a trine.

This is a strong aspect of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a strong effect on you.

Semi-sextile

The semi-sextile happens when two or more objects are 30 degrees apart, within 2 degrees. As the aspect moves closer to true 30 degrees it becomes stronger.

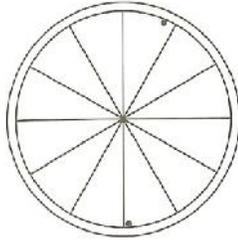

You build up your skills in one area and you work to learn and develop yourself to your highest potential. Even with the additional education you may still feel lacking, or that you are working yourself too hard.

The semi-sextile is weak to negative in effect. It indicates a slight tension between the two objects, but not felt very strongly.

This is considered to be medium of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a medium effect on you.

Quincunx (or Inconjunct)

Working with others and cooperation is the keyword. You seek to work with others in full partnership. Love and the romance of others, even those you are working with become important to you. You may find your sense of self dissolves into the other person.

The quincunx happens when two or more objects are 150 degrees (or five signs) apart, within 3 degrees. As the aspect moves closer to true 150 degrees it becomes stronger.

The quincunx is negative in effect. It indicates a moderate to light tension between the two objects, felt stronger than a semi-sextile, but still not as strongly as a square.

This is considered to be medium of all transiting aspects, and it should be considered to have a medium effect on you.

Table 6

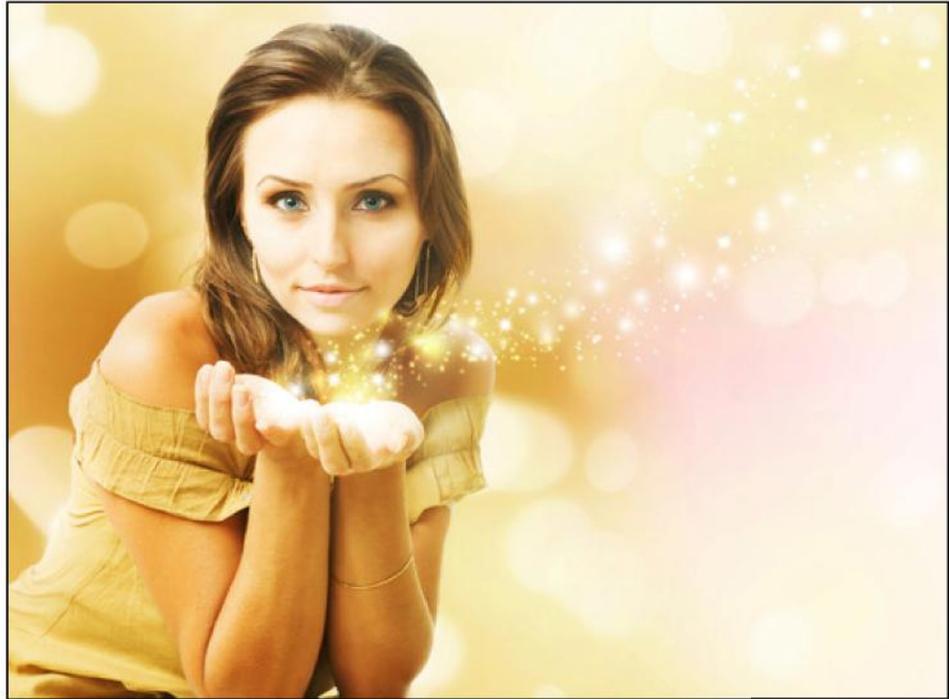

The Exact Solar Return Moment

Each time your solar return moment occurs (within 24 hours of your birthday): it's a sacred moment that you should pay attention to. How do you do that, and help to move that energy through the year? You can do this by making it a sacred event each year around your birthday. You do this because the exact time of the return, and the setting of where you are at that moment can influence your year ahead. It forms a single 'seed' which can help your year grow in ways that you may not have realized before.

This is very important because that one moment acts as a lead up to the entire year ahead that is about to commence. Of course you want this moment to be special, and you want to be in the proper mindset at this time so that you have influenced your year ahead in the best way moving forward for the year.

To do this you may want to consider a ritual that you can repeat each year. Perhaps you come up with a special affirmation for the event, or you use a meditation that is helpful for you. Either way, you will want to be certain that you start the ritual at least 10 minutes or so before the actual solar return time. You can find that time by looking at your solar return chart that is at the top of your solar return reading. You will see the exact date and time of your exact solar return. It will be different from your exact time of birth, and it may be one day before, or after your actual birthday. By starting your ritual ahead of time, you will be certain that you are in the middle of it at the exact moment of your solar return.

What type of things should you gather for your ritual? It all depends on what you want to achieve this year. If you are looking to increase your organization or business acuity you may want to consider including business oriented personal items (such as a special photo, or saying that you rely on to keep you motivated). If you want to enhance your spiritual side this year, look for symbolic items around you that you use for spirituality: incense, candles, a small deity or Buddha, etc. You most likely should include a written copy of your life purpose statement that you have written, and should read that to get you started, so you know the final outcome you want to achieve as part of this solar return year. If you have not yet written your life purpose statement – consider the Life Purpose Numerology Reading which will help you write out a statement that includes what you want to achieve for the next several years.

All of these things should be gathered around you in an appropriate setting for your ritual. You may want to perform your ritual around water to enhance the water element signs/planets (Cancer, Scorpio or Libra, Moon, Venus, or Pluto), or have fire there, such as a candle or burning sage if you want to enhance the fire element signs/planets (Leo, Aries or Sagittarius, Sun, Mars or Jupiter). When you've gathered what you need place them near you and start your ritual. Begin it by giving thanks for all that you have received in the past year, and start a prayer/ritual that you are comfortable with and that creates a sacred moment for you – setting a moment in time when you are symbolically starting your new solar return year.

You may want to do a visualization, affirmation or chant. You may just want to sit in silence. Whichever way you choose to spiritually honor the year ahead will be fine. There is no right, or wrong method to do this. Try to make it a ritual that you continue every year at this time as a way of honoring your personal birth day. It will provide you with a time when you are uniquely connected to the Earth and the Sun, so pay heed to any new signs that you receive during this time, and try to make note of them for reference. If you do this every year, you should find that you are tuning in to your destiny in a unique and powerful way that can only be achieved at the exact moment of your solar return every year.

Conclusion

I hope that you found all of the forecast elements favorable for you in the year ahead. You can use this book to lookup your friends, relatives and partners solar return readings to help you uncover even more details about them.

If you wish to purchase a Solar Return Astrology Reading for even more specific details follow the link. If you feel you need further direction in understanding and determining more about yourself, or others close to you consider an Astrology reading, Numerology reading or Tarot reading to help you along the way.

Please feel free to contact me personally at TheDreamtime.com if you have further questions, or comments about this report. You can contact me using our Contact Us page located at: <http://www.thedreamtime.com/about-astrologer/>

Credits

Some pictures courtesy of NASA: <http://www.nasa.gov>

